

5th International Conference on Uterine Disorders in Farm Animals

Endometritis as a cause of infertility in domestic animals with preconference session in memory of Prof. William Twink Allen

22 – 24 June 2022, Cracow, Poland

!!! hybrid meeting !!! - live, virtual, and pre-recorded sessions

The scientific program addresses the following topics:

1. Preconference session: Genetic and biotechnological aspects of equine reproductive health – in memory of Prof. William Twink Allen
2. Immune-endocrine function of the uterus
3. The role of bacteria and viruses for the pathogenesis of uterine disorders
4. Effects of uterine disorders on reproductive health of farm animals
5. Methods of diagnosis and therapy of uterine disorders in farm animals

<http://www.endometritis.pan.olsztyn.pl/>

Registration opens soon!!!

Abstract submission until April 1st, 2022

Main lectures will be given by the invited speakers:

- Prof. Christine AURICH, University of Veterinary Medicine, Vienna, Austria
- Prof. Igor F. CANISSO, University of Illinois Urbana – Champaign, USA
- Prof. Marc DRILICH, University of Veterinary Medicine, Vienna, Austria
- Prof. Graça FERREIRA-DIAS, CIISA FMV Lisboa, Portugal
- Prof. Amanda DE MESTRE, The Royal Veterinary College, UK
- Prof. Claudia KLEIN, Friedrich-Loeffler-Institute, Germany
- Prof. Hans NAUWYNCK, Ghent University, Belgium
- Prof. Geert OPSOMER, Ghent University, Belgium
- Prof. Martin SHELDON, Swansea University School of Medicine, UK

Contact the organizing committee at:

endometritis@pan.olsztyn.pl